2021, February 11, Zug, Switzerland – The growing crypto market is increasing the interest in valid information about crypto and blockchain. However, many newcomers still do not know what 'crypto' is all about and are looking for qualified answers. 18Palmas-Open-Dealing-Room is a new daily forum, where the answers can be found to all elementary questions about crypto fundamentals, investing and trading. These will be supported by trading competitions, in demo mode, provided by Palmatrix.

"18digits and Palmatrix felt the need to create this open forum to ask and discuss all questions about crypto. We see this as an important step towards the mass adoption of cryptocurrencies. If you are you interested in learning all about blockchain, crypto and digital assets – join us," said Bertram Seitz, CEO, 18digits.com, Zug, Switzerland.

In addition, twice a month there are special events, where experts give in-depth answers on specific topics, like 'What is blockchain? What are wallets? What about crypto and taxes?' In this forum, the top industry experts from the blockchain and crypto space are gathered together to offer their advice. This ensures the highest quality of these sessions.

"As crypto continues its journey towards mass adoption, everybody has an opportunity to access markets directly, control funds, and manage them according to his or her own knowledge and awareness. This is opening investment/trading possibilities of unimaginable proportions, just as the internet opened up the way for e-commerce.
